

Cold Weather Warning beginning Saturday, November 10, 2018
Public Service Company of Colorado, an Xcel Energy Company
Posted November 8, 2018

Cold weather temperatures are predicted beginning Saturday, November 10, 2018 for Colorado, and continuing through the early part of the following week.

Shippers, please take action:

- Review your loads and schedule enough gas beginning Gas Day Saturday, November 10, 2018 to avoid under-delivery.
- Do not schedule imbalance payback during this period.
- Do not rely on an imbalance bank to cover significant shortages. Your receipts and deliveries should be in balance.

[Thank you for your efforts to appropriately manage your gas nominations and imbalances during this period. Please contact your natural gas services representative if you have questions or email us at \[Scheduling@xcelenergy.com\]\(mailto:Scheduling@xcelenergy.com\).](#)

Sincerely,

Brian Sulzer
Supervisor, Gas Control
